What problems or conditions does a medical intuitive treat?

The issues or conditions for which people consult a professional medical intuitive vary and range from a persistent minor physical problem to life threatening medical conditions or, from mild anxiety to suicidal depression.

Many people consult a professional medical intuitive for emotional issues and this is generally an area where the healing techniques used by a medical intuitive are beneficial. These are often the kind of issues that relate to the patterns in a client's life.

As a client coming with these types of issues, a professional medical intuitive will assist you in identifying any harmful or destructive patterns through their targeted questioning process, observing changes in the physical body and the energetic body.

They then use the specific vibrational energy to eliminate the emotion around the cellular memory which creates the pattern and helps you to make better choices in how you respond to situations and other people.

In the case of issues in the physical body, a professional medical intuitive can be consulted for several reasons. It may be as simple as wanting a drug free solution or it may be that the problem has been with you for some time, and you have not been able to find a medical solution.

In this situation, a professional medical intuitive will once again use the targeted questioning process, observing any changes in your energy, identifying the patterns which have helped to create the issue, and then use the specific vibrational energy required to eliminate any emotion around the cellular memory which has caused the issue in the physical body.

In most cases this will solve the problem or removing the emotion around the cellular memory, will allow the more conventional treatments to be effective.

If a client is seeking healing of the spirit, a professional medical intuitive would again, use the same targeted questioning process observing any change in the energy in and around the physical and energetic body.

As with every dysfunction, issue or disease in the body, the mind, or the spirit, there will be an emotion stored in the cellular memory. It may be as straightforward as a belief that God does not love you.

A professional medical intuitive will follow the same process to identify what is causing this feeling, often as simple as a feeling of being disconnected and assist you through the healing process.

It is always a pattern of belief and with the targeted questioning process, it will show in the energy.

The energy does not lie, if you are smiling but your heart is breaking, a professional medical intuitive will know that your heart is breaking because they will see it in your energy.

For some issues, a professional medical intuitive may need to know if you have consulted a medical practitioner as the appropriate path may be that you consult your general practitioner and request a referral to a suitably qualified medical specialist.

Can the medical intuitive work with you while you are under the care of a medical specialist?

Absolutely, and in most cases will indeed help to enable the conventional medical treatment to be more effective.

In reality, there are times where a medical condition is terminal. In this situation, a professional medical intuitive should be truthful about their assistance.

Their consultation may help you find peace in your life and relationships and manage the anxiety almost certainly felt with a terminal illness as you approach the final stages of your life.

Most people are fearful of dying and a medical intuitive may help to alleviate the fear.

You may read about miraculous healing of terminal illness on social media or in mainstream media, but it is often not true. Having said that, it does occasionally happen.
